Mrs. Charles Vicari Accepts Car From Buy-In-Campbell Officials

Mrs. Lena Elizabeth Vicari, former Campbell resident who now lives at Box 71 Saratoga Avenue, drove off in her new 1949 Plymouth sedan Friday after turning in her winning ticket to a representative of the Buy-In-Campbell Committee. "It couldn't be me," she commented when first told that her ticket, one in 601,000, was the first drawn for the prize. "I've never been lucky in my life. I've never won anything before," said the winner. "I just couldn't believe it."

Mrs. Vicari and her family all live in this area. She herself attended Moreland and Campbell elementary schools and Los Gatos High School. Her husband, Charles Vicari, is a former barber. Mr. and Mrs. Vicari lived on Latimer street before moving to the Saratoga address in 1943. They had made their home in Campbell for 15 years.

"I live in Saratoga now, but I always come to Campbell to buy," said Mrs. Vicari when asked how much of her shopping is done in Campbell. "I had a lot of tickets in the contest. It's like coming home when I come to Campbell to shop."

REALLY WON SOMETHING

Her daughter, Mrs. Lou Bommarito of San Jose witnessed the brief informal ceremony in which Mrs. Vicari was presented the keys to the car. "She was so excited. She never won anything in her life, but when she did she really won something," observed the daughter.

Another daughter, Anne, is employed at the county courthouse in San Jose. The Vicari's son, Anthony, is married and lives in Saratoga. He, too, was on hand to see his mother receive the car, commenting that she could well do with a new car for the old family auto was about ready for pasture.

Mrs. Vicari was the first of four tickets drawn at the community gathering the evening of December 22 on the lighted softball field at the Campbell Grammar School. Others drawn were held by C. A. Archambault, 714 E. Campbell Avenue; William Gieseler, 635 San Tomas, and Alvin Brannon, Route 1, Box 789 Los Gatos. Santa Claus did the drawing from the revolving bin of a Western Gravel Company cement truck. The stage was a flat bed truck from Campbell Lumber Company.

The car award was the climax of the two-month Buy-In-Campbell campaign sponsored by local merchants. Twenty-five guarantors, each of whom had contributed $75 to underwrite the campaign, have received checks for $75 each returning in full the amount of their original guarantee. A surplus of about $200 will be turned over to the Campbell Softball Commission about mid-January when all bills of the campaign have been paid. The commission has direct charge of the Campbell Grammar School softball field for which the Campbell Business and Professional Women's Club, in a campaign earlier this year, raised funds for installation of lights. The lights have been installed but some $400 is still needed to complete the project.

KIWANIS PRESIDENT LOWELL BENSON GIVES REVIEW OF CLUB'S YEAR

Retiring president Lowell Benson of the Campbell Kiwanis Club gave a "Review of the Kiwanis Year" at the final meeting of the club during 1949 Tuesday noon.

In his short talk, Mr. Benson expressed his appreciation for the splendid assistance and cooperation given him by the members during the year and extended his best wishes to the incoming officers for the new year.

C. P. Klassen, song leader, led the group in singing some of the less familiar Christmas carols. Mr. and Mrs. Klassen and Mr. Russ Keplinger, as a trio, sang "Christmas" by Handel, a little known Christmas carol. Miss Irma Sanders was the accompanist. Other songs were "Oh, Holy Night," "The Westminster Carol," "Away In A Manger," "Jolly Old St. Nicholas," "Deck the Halls," "Winter Wonderland," and "We Three Kings." Mr. Klassen gave brief explanatory comments on the origin of each song and the legends connected with them.

C. N. McCoy was the chairman of the day. Visitors were Fred Bradford, San Marino; Bobby Benson, Cary Levenberg and Marty Robillard of Campbell.

Next week new officers will be installed. William C. Henley will take office as president. Others on the new roster of officers are: Fred E. Jones, vice-president; Guy E. Farley, secretary; Ethan Lanphier, treasurer.

Parking Ordinance Nearly Ready For Supervisors

The proposed parking ordinance for unincorporated areas of the county, including Campbell, will probably be presented to the County Board of Supervisors the first of the year, Supervisor Joseph M. McKinnon stated yesterday to the Campbell Press. He said County Counsel Howard Campen is completing preparation of the measure this week. McKinnon added that the cannery storage side of Harrison Avenue, in the block off Campbell Avenue, will be designated a loading zone. The zoning of that section had been under study by McKinnon during his survey of local parking problems.

General Campbell area to be controlled will be that of Campbell Avenue from Santa Clara-Los Gatos Road to the railroad tracks. A two-hour parking limit, between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m., would be instituted, and special zones would be set aside in front of the post office, a 15-minute limit, no parking in front of the Campbell Theater and the fire station. The present taxi stand at the corner of Campbell and Central Avenues would be designated.

Meanwhile, J. M. Dahl, president of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, said County Surveyor Robert Chandler left a map of the main Campbell area at his office Wednesday, with the request that the chamber designate streets on which it believes parking time should be controlled. Dahl said the chamber would do this at its regular meeting January 18, then refer the map to Chandler and the Board of Supervisors.

Asked if the chamber work on the map would delay supervisors' action on the ordinance, McKinnon said the county counsel has all the information necessary to prepare the ordinance and that he did not believe the map study affects the ordinance progress.

Dahl said the Chamber would probably prepare a request to the board of supervisors asking authorization of the volunteer Legion Patrol to issue citations.

PTA Meeting Is Postponed

Regular meeting of the Campbell Elementary School Parent-Teacher Association has been postponed from its scheduled date of January 3 to January 10. Change was necessary since January 3 will be the first day of school after the winter holiday.

Whiskerino Registration Opens January 1

Registration for the whiskerino contest for Old Settlers Day, February 22, will begin January 1, chairman of the contest George Jeffers has announced. Entrants may register at Jeffers' store on Campbell Avenue at Central Avenue or at any barber shop in town. Contestants will be divided into three groups: 21 years of age and under, 21 to 45 and 45 and up. First and second prizes will be awarded in each group. Awards will be made at the dance to be given the evening of February 22 at the high school gymnasium.

American Legion Post 596 of Campbell has charge of the dance which will begin at 9 p.m. Committee members are: Bernard Barrett, chairman; Guy Smith, Harold Strickland, John Ziegler, John Burda, Clarence Fagalde, Jack Chappell and Z. D. Tennyson.

Mrs. Charles Vicari accepts ownership certificate to the new Plymouth sedan from Cei Gerevas, member of the Buy-In-Campbell Committee, after being named winner of the merchants campaign at a community gathering December 22. Board Denies Carbone-Parlato Zone Petition County Supervisors upheld the November 16 decision of the County Planning Commission denying petition of Vincent Carbone, Peter J. and H. M. Parlato for a commercial zoning of six lots on the east side of Santa Clara-Los Gatos Road at Hamilton Avenue. At the board meeting Tuesday, the petitioners, represented by Attorney Albert J. Ruffo, asked rezoning from residential to commercial zoning.

Ruffo presented petitions bearing signatures of 151 residents favoring the rezoning. In turn Attorney Richard W. Morton, representing a strong opposing group of residents, exhibited petitions opposing the rezoning and bearing 143 signatures. A check of the opposing and supporting petitions revealed a large number of residents had signed both petitions.

The Supervisors denied appeal for reversal of the Planning Commission decision on grounds petitioners failed to show necessity or public convenience would be served by the requested rezoning.

Scouts Hold Honor Court

Union District Boy Scout Troop 47 held their court of honor ceremonies this month at the We and Our Neighbors clubhouse.

In addition to award honors presentation, a short program of colored slides depicting a vacation trip through the Colorado Rockies was shown by Dr. W. R. Morgan, member of the scout committee.

Scoutmaster Arthur Downing was in charge of the ceremonies, and a fairly large number of parents and friends was present.

Musical Program For Hi School PTA

After a brief business meeting, the Campbell High School Parent-Teacher Association was entertained with a musical program this month by the school orchestra and choir, directed by Frank Triena.

A pageant, "Dust Of The Road," was enacted by Lillie Meelen, Marvin Scarper, Olin Shanrock and Frank Mantia, all high school students.

Supervisors Deny Deputyship Request; Rutherford Says Coroner Holds Grudge

David F. Rutherford, owner and operator of the Rutherford Funeral Home, Winchester Road, Campbell, asked the County Board of Supervisors on Tuesday to have the County Coroner, Tom Kilmartin, appoint him a coroner's deputy. Rutherford, through his attorney, forman Stoner, explained that the coroner now has 23 undertaker deputies, representing all but one of the undertaking establishments in the county. His mortuary, he pointed out, is the only one which is not represented among the coroner's deputies. Due to this exclusion, said Rutherford, he suffers considerable loss of business.

Rutherford's request was denied by the board, and Stoner indicated that the matter is not closed.

NO AUTHORITY

Supervisor Joseph McKinnon explained the board's action by stating that it has no authority over the coroner. He is an elective officer and works entirely on a fee basis. "Rutherford has been trying to get on as a deputy for some time," said the Fourth District Supervisor. "He has written several letters to Kilmartin. They're nasty letters, that's all. Kilmartin keeps his letters on file. I received letters from Rutherford, but I filed them permanently—in the wastebasket."

"When the matter first came up," said McKinnon, "Stoner came to me and I said I would talk to Kilmartin about it. I did, and Kilmartin said definitely, under no circumstances would he appoint Rutherford a coroner's deputy. He showed me the letters from Rutherford which he has on file."

During the hearing Tuesday, Rutherford charged that Kilmartin's refusal was based on a political grudge, because Rutherford campaigned for the coroner's opponent at his last election. Referring to this statement, McKinnon told the Campbell Press, "Some of the others, in the department now, were against Kilmartin, too, but they're working on his staff now."

Asked if the coroner's staff is limited to 23 deputies, McKinnon gave a brief background of the matter. The old political code, he explained, allowed the coroner "either 3 or 5" deputies. This was amended some time ago, giving the board authority to establish the number of deputies they feel necessary and basing the number on the request of the coroner. When Kilmartin was elected nearly four years ago he asked the board to authorize appointment of 23 deputies, and the board agreed. Rutherford was then asked for a statement by the Campbell Press, in the interests of presenting as complete a report on the matter as possible.

"My trouble with Kilmartin has been going on for years," said the mortician. "I was satisfied with the situation before. Mrs. Jessie Spaulding was the coroner before Kilmartin. I had most of my contacts with her chief deputy, Harry Ryder. He had most to do with distribution of coroner cases. At that time there were no undertaker deputies surrounding my territory. Ryder would take into consideration the residence of the deceased. When the deceased was a Campbell resident, he saw to it, when no family was present, that the body was sent to my place pending notification of relatives. If relatives were present and had no preference, he recommended my services. "GRAB AND RUN"

"Now, the way it operates, there is only one full-time non-undertaker deputy. The coroner and his deputy operate only during business hours. Evenings, Sundays and holidays the undertaker deputies take over. Then it is the incentive of the undertaker deputies to grab and run, sometimes without even

$1,000 In Merchandise Stolen From Rachel's

Veterans Affairs Dept. To Issue Payment Forms

The State Department of Veterans Affairs has been designated by Governor Earl Warren as the official agency in this state to distribute application forms for special subsistence payments for former prisoners of war and civilian internees.

Director of Veterans Affairs Lawrence C. Stevens said the blanks have been ordered from the War Claims Commission, but cautioned applicants to wait until announcement is made that they have been received. They are not expected before some time in January, he said.

Stevens estimated that about 13,000 World War II veterans and surviving dependents of former POW's in California will be eligible for the payment, designed to compensate them for the substandard diet they received while in enemy hands.

Payment will be based on a $1 a day ration for each day of confinement, although in some cases actual compensation may be slightly below that level, he reported. Payments are to be made from seized enemy assets.

In addition to veterans who were POW's, the groups receiving payments will include: surviving dependents of such veterans; civilian internees and their surviving dependents; and members of religious organizations. The latter are to be reimbursed only for aid and funds rendered to prisoners of war, it is reported.

Distribution of the application forms will be made from Sacramento to county veterans service officers, community service center directors, state headquarters of the principal veterans' organizations and, in communities not otherwise served, offices of the Department of Veterans Affairs.

Burglars Raid Apparel Shop; Dresses, Slips, Nylons Taken

Burglars struck again in Campbell this week, this time taking an estimated $1000 in merchandise from Rachel's, women's apparel shop at 294 E. Campbell Avenue. Mrs. Edith H. Larkin, co-owner of the shop with Mrs. Emily McConnell, discovered the burglary when she arrived Thursday morning at 9:30 to open the shop. The store had been closed up at 6 p.m. Wednesday, as usual. Mrs. Larkin found the outside rear door standing slightly ajar.

Peerless Stages Seeks Local Agent For Ticket Sales

Sales of tickets locally to Peerless Stages passengers ceased Wednesday at the Orchard City Creamery, and the bus company is seeking another local ticket agent. Peerless' branch manager Robert M. Bartholdi has announced. The creamery's lease on its present location, corner of Campbell and Central Avenues, has expired.

Bartholdi said the bus company is looking for another agent either near the creamery vicinity or near the Campbell Press corner of First and Campbell Avenues. "We have contacted a number of prospects," Bartholdi stated, but none was interested. Meanwhile, he explained, bus drivers will accept cash for fares of passengers taking the bus at the corner of Campbell and Central Avenues. The branch manager said the main difficulty in being without a ticket agent is lack of a receiving station for baggage and parcels.

Mrs. T. L. Bowers' Brother-in-law and Father Succumb

Mrs. T. L. Bowers has received word of the death of her father, John Thomas Shahan, 78, December 23 in Graham, Texas. Mrs. Bowers is the operator of Marvel's Juvenile Shop in the Virginia City Shopping Center.

Mr. Shahan, a native of Graham and a retired rancher, succumbed after an illness of eight years. Funeral services were held December 24, followed by interment in the Graham Community Cemetery.

The father of Mrs. Bowers leaves four sons, Arthur L., William Homer, John and Glenn Shahan, all of Texas; five daughters, Mrs. Aida Day of Sacramento; Mrs. Bowers, Mrs. Beuras Atwood and Mrs. Velma Ford of Graham, and Mrs. Lennie Martin of Paso Robles, California; 35 grand children, 14 great-grandchildren, and four great-great-grandchildren.

In addition, Mrs. Bowers received a message Thursday of the death of her brother-in-law, Mr. John Willis Ford of Graham, who passed away yesterday following a heart attack. Military funeral services are pending notification of his four sons now in military service in Japan and Germany.

John A. Kopplin Assigned To USS Bumper

John A. Kopplin, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Kopplin of 81 So. San Jose-Los Gatos Road, Campbell, was recently assigned to duty aboard the submarine USS Bumper with the Pacific Fleet.

Kopplin, who previously served at the Naval Submarine Base, New London, Connecticut, is a graduate of Los Gatos High School, where he was active in football and track.

Before entering the Naval service in January, 1949, he was employed by the Burke Rubber Co. After receiving his recruit training at the Naval Training Center, San Diego, he attended the Submarine School at New London.

Citizen Committee

The Old Age Citizens Committee will meet Thursday, January 5 at 2 p.m. in the Campbell library building. An excellent speaker has been promised for the meeting.

Some $250 worth of nylon stockings and about $750 of slips of all kinds and dresses were taken by the burglars who gained entry by breaking a window in a bathroom at the rear of the store. The window was broken at the latch which was then opened, apparently. Flowers in pots on the inside sill were removed and placed on the ground outside. The burglars evidently entered through the window then opened the nearby rear door which faces on the railroad tracks.

A rear stockroom containing large supplies of new merchandise was cleaned out of the stockings, either before or after the burglars entered the main retail salesroom. To enter the salesroom they jimmied open a door, then, keeping to the rear of the store, removed quantities of slips from their shelves and dresses from the racks. Mrs. Larkin and Mrs. McConnell said the merchandise was not insured.

CASH UNTOUCHED

A small amount of change in the till was untouched, the co-owners stated. They added that it appeared to have been a professional burglary job, since the intruders kept well to the rear of the store. Their only light was a small candle globe over the slip shelves. Dresses had been taken from the back of the double racks. Those from one rack were large sizes, 18 to 40, and from another, intermediate sizes, 14, 15 and 16. Mrs. Larkin and Mrs. McConnell estimated that about 30 dresses were taken.

Merchant Patrolman Robert Locke and the County Sheriff's office were notified by the co-owners. Locke said he had noticed an out-of-state car parked near the side of the shop early Wednesday evening. Deputy Sheriffs Francis Sadler and Francis Gilleran were assigned to investigate the burglary.

Asked if anyone other than themselves used the rear rest-room, Mrs. McConnell said it is used by customers of the shop, too.

Holiday Weekend Fires Cause Little Damage

Two small fires were extinguished without serious damage during the Christmas weekend. Cambrian station of the County Fire District answered both alarms.

First fire was on Christmas eve at the F. M. Tucker home, 470 W. Parr Avenue. The chimney fire had been extinguished by the family before firemen arrived. Campbell Legion Patrolmen Rex Kaber and Fred Jones Sr., who were on patrol that night, handled the traffic control.

A short wiring caused a fire at the home of Mrs. O. L. Spence, 31 Charmer Avenue, December 26 at 5:39 p.m. Firemen reported no damage and the fire out on arrival.

Cambrian 4H Boys Have A Party

Vandals Invade Union School; Juveniles Sought

Windows and doors were broken, furniture upset and food scattered about the kitchen in the old Union School building Tuesday night in what was termed a raid by juvenile vandals. The building, corner of Union Avenue and Los Gatos-Almaden Road, suffered its heaviest loss in plate glass doors and windows.

A. L. Baker, school custodian, said cooking utensils were thrown about in the kitchen and flour had been thrown about. "The kitchen was a mess." Nothing appears to have been stolen, he added. None of the teachers' stuff was taken. "They started a fire in an upstairs classroom with old papers and drinking straws, but it went out before it could do any damage."

School Principal Kenneth A. McDonnell has requested teachers to check their rooms for evidence of theft. Deputy Sheriffs Jerry Frank and Elton Heck are investigating the vandalism.

Let's Browse IN THE CAMPBELL LIBRARY

The following are reviews of new books available through the local branch of the county library. Reviews were prepared by Mrs. Elizabeth Singletary, county librarian.

Lincoln, Victoria.

Celia Amberley, 1949.

Miss Lincoln won herself a faithful audience with the publication of "February Hill" in 1934. Her style is poetic, and she writes with an especially fine touch in her stories of young girls. This is the story of Celia Amberley, who spent the early years of her childhood in Philadelphia where her life was introverted and lonely; and her later years of adolescence in a small Rhode Island town where she was forced to become a part of life, to make decisions to grow up. We are absorbed with the process of Celia's spiritual growth and development. Her conflicts have a real psychological basis, of which the author writes with subtle understanding.

Ogilvie, Elisabeth.

Rowan Head, 1949.

The setting of this novel, as of the others before it, is the coast of Maine—with its rich colors of sky and sea. The heroine of the story is Miriam Chase, a nurse, who goes to Rowan Head to take care of its invalid mistress and her three sons. The house is full of discord—the brothers clash, the mistress lives in a hazy world of her own to which she has been withdrawn since the desertion many years before. Miriam becomes involved in their lives and cannot escape; the responsibility she has assumed is not light, but Miriam is not a light character. The story has a strong narrative pull which holds the attention from beginning to end.

Walker, David.

The Storm and the Silence, 1949.

A tensely exciting tale of adventure, the story of a man-hunt, set in the wooded valleys and the moors of the Scottish Highlands. Tam Diamond was a product of the Glasgow slums who loved the liberty and beauty of the Highlands. His ruin is brought about by the complexities of his own character. Tam himself, and the other men and women in the book who share the shaping of his fate, are drawn with a sharp, indelible pen by the author.

Roberts, Dorothy James.

Marshwood, 1949.

This is just the book for a pleasant summer afternoon—good plot, adequate writing and diverse characters. Marshwood, a house which stood for the past, meant sanctuary from the problems of the modern world to the four Button sisters, until one night when twin baby boys were left on the great stone steps. To Millicent, a troubled and bewildered widow, the babies became a symbol of the barrenness of her marriage. They were an outlet for long pent up emotions to timid Linnie, while to daring and wilful Octavia, they meant only an intrusion upon her own complex private life. Constance, alone, realized how the twins had added richness to her life. Interest is sustained throughout this story of the conflict of emotions between the four sisters.

Mosaic in the Fountain, 1949.

In this charming book, Miss Harding relates her personal history against a romantic background. Born to parents of Hungarian, German and French ancestry, her early life was spent in the countryside near Budapest. The adventures began when her father, an engineer, was asked to build a power plant in Mexico, and her mother was asked by the House of Hapsburg to search (while in Mexico) for the jewels

New Campbell Community Club To Install First Officer Slate

First regular officers of the recently organized Campbell Community Club will be installed at the club's next regular meeting Wednesday, January 25 at 8 p.m. The meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Donald Lantz, who has been acting chairman of the club since its formation September 1.

Raymond Flagg And Alice Pagel Reveal Troth

Betrothal of Alice Pagel of Manhattan Beach to Raymond J. Flagg Jr. was revealed Christmas day at a family reunion in the home of Mr. Flagg's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Flagg of Apricot Avenue. The wedding will probably take place early in 1950.

The benedict attended Cambrian Elementary School, Campbell Union High School and San Jose State College. He is currently studying at the Chouinard Art Institute in Los Angeles. Both he and the bride-elect were in Campbell for the holiday weekend.

Also present at the announcement gathering was the Flagg's son, Ronald, home from Flagstaff, Arizona, where he is attending the university.

New officers are: Mrs. Donald York of Los Gatos, president; Mrs. George Miller of Campbell, vice-president and secretary; Mrs. Charles Schmidt and Mrs. Thayer Lyons, both of Campbell, co-treasurers.

The club's Christmas party was a potluck supper Wednesday evening in Mrs. Lantz's home. After a brief business meeting, members enjoyed a social evening and gift exchange.

Purpose of the community-minded organization of the young matrons in this area, is to help in emergencies and to carry on a program of welfare work. The club has aided a Mountain View family which was burned out of its home, and has been assisting with the Visiting Nurse Association work. Membership is not confined to Campbell residents.

The apple, close kin of the pear, is believed to be the most widely cultivated and best known fruit of temperate climates.

Doll Presentation To Muriel Smith

Mrs. Muriel Smith, employee of a local variety store, was awarded the bride doll and doll's wardrobe prepared by the Campbell Business and Professional Women's club, at informal ceremonies December 17. Mrs. Smith said she planned to give the doll to her granddaughter, Esther Louise Willis of San Mateo, as a Christmas present.

As a result of funds raised by the doll project and other events, the BPW club members have distributed toys and Christmas baskets to two families in Campbell. The balance of the club Christmas fund was donated to the Christmas project of the J&A Market of Campbell.

Next BPW meeting will be January 11 at 7 p.m. at the Congregational Church. New members will be welcomed at this dessert meeting.

THIS CALIFORNIA

A Weekly Column By
Lt-Gov. Goodwin Knight

I'm learning some astonishing things about farming from letters mailed to this column; not only farming in California but farming everywhere in the United States.

When letters began coming in from Michigan, North Carolina, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Florida, Texas and many other sections of the country, I couldn't understand how this column could have reached such far away places. It seems that small town dailies and weeklies are mailed to the "home folks" everywhere by subscribers who have moved to California to live.

Most of the letters received tell of farm problems, which is what I have been asking for. But some of the letters speak glowingly of the delights of farm life. I think that despite severe problems most farmers would rather farm than anything else.

I am sorry to have to tell writers from other states that there is little I can do to help them with their worries and problems. I do not even know for certain that I can do much to help California farmers. I can but try.

To the man from Michigan who wrote that 14,000 acres of once productive mint growing land was now useless for mint production because of wilt diseases, I can only say that my agricultural advisors tell me that no doubt the mint land has been one-cropped to death.

To the Carolina tobacco grower who can no longer grow tobacco because of black shank, my advisors give the same answer.

Again let me repeat that I am in no position to give advice on farm problems. The purpose of this column is to find out just what your problems are, and to let authorities try to solve them. I am not an authority. I'm just a fellow who worked hard on a farm when I was a boy, and learned that farming was not all roses.

I will say this, however, that most top-notch agricultural scientists are emphatic in declaring that plagues of insects and plant diseases are an indication that wrong farm practices have been employed. Nature's balance has been upset, soils depleted of minerals and humus. They tell me that this condition can be remedied by diversified crops, planting of cover crops and in general growing in accordance with Nature's laws.

One writer takes me to task for saying California is the most prosperous agricultural area in the nation. I can prove it. The average farm income in California is about $6000 a year. Iowa is the next most prosperous farm state with an average farm income of about $4000 annually. West Virginia is the least prosperous having an average yearly farm income of a little more than $800.

Xmas Mailing Gives Post Office $1,900 Increase

Christmas mailing at the Campbell post office contributed an approximate $1900 increase for the period December 12 to 24 over the same period last year. Postmaster Ira H. Grim revealed this week. Figure for the Christmas mailing period this year was $8200 compared to $6300 for last year.

The December quarterly business will exceed that of last year by approximately the same amount. Quarterly total so far was $14,156.94 to December 28. Last year to December 31 the figure was $13,272. The postmaster pointed out that at least $800 more business is expected in remaining days of this month since many firms purchase their stamps just before the first of the new year.

The annual increase should be about $5000 over 1948, he revealed. Campbell Post Office has achieved the $40,000 annual business volume required for first-class rating, and the new rating will take effect with the beginning of the next fiscal year, July 1, 1950. Grim has indicated next year's business is expected to amount to $45,000.

New Year's Day Service Set For Methodist Church

At the New Year's Day church service of the Methodist Church the pastor, L. J. Osborne, will sing the solo, "Build Thee More Stately Mansions, O My Soul," by Ambrose. The members of the church choir will sing, "Fair Lord Jesus" by Protheroe. Mrs. Beulah Ytterness Herbold will play the organ for the 11 o'clock service.

Flowers for the service will be provided by Mrs. W. B. Lipford and Mrs. Luella Ryan. The missionary study at 11:30 a.m. for the younger children of the congregation will be conducted by Mrs. W. B. Lipford, and the greeters at the church door will be Mrs. Esther Short and Miss Elizabeth Kennedy.

The regular meeting of the official board has been postponed one week to January 8.

Death Claims James Oswald

James Oswald, 84, native of Montreal, Canada, and stepfather of Mrs. Lulu Herman of Campbell, died Wednesday in San Jose. Oswald, believed to have been the first motorman on the old San Jose railroad lines, had made his home in San Jose for 60 years.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Werrena Oswald, and by his stepdaughter.

Private funeral services will be held tomorrow at 10 a.m. in San Jose. Private interment will follow at Santa Clara Cemetery.

GIRL SCOUTS

Girl Scout Troop 22 of Campbell went caroling to the IOOF Home in Saratoga on December 21. The scouts walked through the halls singing well known carols, and closed the program with "Auld Lang Syne." They were well received by the residents of the home.

After the program they went to Mrs. William Wadsworth's home for refreshments.

Home Travels On Campbell Avenue

A new Mobilhome was moved down Campbell Avenue Thursday morning to Lot 15 on the east side of Esther Avenue in the Hedegard subdivision. Owner of the three-bedroom home is Charles Ledogar.

Santa Clara County Shows 67.2% Increase

Santa Clara county can boast 292,600 population as of January, 1950, California Taxpayers' association reported today, making public its annual estimate of the population of California counties. The county ranks seventh among the state's 58 counties in population.

The county's 292,600 estimated population for January, 1950, shows an increase of 5.8 per cent over the 276,500 estimate (revised) for January, 1949.

Since the April, 1940, census, the county population has increased by 67.2 per cent, the 1940 census showing 174,949 people in the county.

Population of the state for January, 1950, is 10,730,200, an increase of 3.1 per cent over the 10,404,700 estimate (revised) for January, 1949, the Taxpayers' association said.

During the 1940 decade statewide, there has been a 55.3 per cent increase in the population, the 1940 census showing 6,907,387 people in California.

Thirty-six California counties have had bigger than 50 per cent increases in population during the 1940 decade, the Taxpayers' association found.

Largest increases since 1940 were in Contra Costa county, 194.1 per cent; Solano county, 133.5 per cent; San Mateo county, 111.6 per cent; and San Diego county, 98.9 per cent.

Other counties with more than 50 per cent increase since 1940 included Butte, Calaveras, Fresno, Humboldt, Inyo, Kern, Kings, Lake, Madera, Marin, Mendocino, Monterey, Napa, Orange, Placer, Plumas, Riverside, Sacramento, San Bernardino, San Joaquin, San Luis Obispo, Santa Clara, Santa Cruz, Shasta, Sonoma, Stanislaus, Sutter, Tehama, Trinity, Tulare, Yolo, and Yuba.

In the past year, population increases of 5 per cent or more were found in twenty-three counties. They include Calaveras, Colusa, Fresno, Humboldt, Inyo, Kern, Kings, Madera, Mendocino, Merced, Mono, Orange, Placer, Sacramento, San Diego, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Sierra, Tehama, Tulare, Tuolumne, Ventura, and Yolo counties.

Only one county, Alpine, the smallest county, shows a decrease in population, January 1950, estimate, compared with the 1940 census. For January, 1950, the estimate for Alpine county is 300 people, compared with 323 for the 1940 census.

During 1949, population decreases are indicated for seven counties—Amador, Del Norte, El Dorado, Lake, Mariposa, Modoc, Nevada, San Luis Obispo, Solano, Trinity, and Yuba counties, the association found.

RED-HEADED WIFE A SHORT-SHORT STORY

By MAUD McCURDY WELCH

"GUESS John P. will come across with a job for you before long, won't he?" Rufe Lafferty asked Bill Brown with a slight edge of malice in his throaty voice.

Bill moved uncomfortably in his chair. He just couldn't help feeling uncomfortable when anybody in town mentioned John, his younger brother. Bill knew they considered John a snob. And Bill knew that John wasn't. He was really fine and good, maybe just a little thoughtless, but nothing more.

Several years ago John had moved to the city to seek his fortune. Sumperville, the little town where he was born, was much too small for a man with his ambition, he'd told them all. Strange to say, John had done everything he'd said he would. He'd made a fortune and had also married into society.

It seemed now that he was not only ashamed of his humble origin and his poor relations, he was also ashamed of his name, which was the good old honest-sounding one of John Perkins Brown. The Perkins part must have sounded countrified, for on his letter-heads John had it printed like this:

"John P. Brown, Agent and Counselor of Insurance."

It did sound bigger that way, Bill thought. Not that he ever had any letters from John, but sometimes one would come to the bank and then it would spread all over town about how swanky John had got to be.

Bill and Sadie were just folks. And here was Bill nearing 44 and without a job and John P. not moving a finger to help him, though he must have known for some time that Bill was down on his luck. Things like that get around.

It wasn't Bill's fault that he was jobless. It was just one of those unfortunate things that happened in these disturbed post-war days. The furniture factory had had material trouble and one day it had just simply closed down for good.

So the weeks had gone by and Bill and Sadie's small savings were beginning to dwindle to alarming figures and still there was no word or sign from John P. One evening just before going to bed, Bill said unhappily, "Of course John is going to give me a job. He's not a snob like the people around here believed. It's just that . . . that he's awfully busy, and hasn't got around to—fixing things up."

"Of course, darling. You'll hear from him before long. I feel sure you will." Sadie always encouraged Bill. She didn't dare not to for Bill was beginning to lose confidence in himself, a fatal thing to happen to any man.

Bill shot her a quick look. "Do you really believe that, Sadie?" There was a broken note in his voice as he went on. "You don't actually believe he's ashamed of us just because we're ordinary country folks, do you?"

"Of course I don't, honey," Sadie answered quickly; then she had to leave the room for the hot angry tears were crowding close in her eyes. She just couldn't bear the expression in Bill's face when he spoke of John . . . so wistful, so hopeful. It always made her want to cry, because in her heart Sadie didn't believe in John at all. She was very much afraid he was really a snob just as the town said. And Sadie was not only red-headed, she was Irish, and sometimes when she thought of the way John ignored Bill in his trouble, she got fighting mad inside.

Bill walked the town over every day. It didn't take long. He asked everybody he met and practically every business man on the main street if there was any hope of having a vacancy before long. Bill wasn't too proud to do any kind of honest work, but there just simply wasn't anything.

The days were long. When night came, they sat close to the small gas stove with their coats over their shoulders to save gas. Winter had just started and it was showing signs of being a long hard one.

Bill and Sadie never stayed up late. It was cheaper to go to bed. Then they could lie in each other's arms and comfort each other. But sometimes an involuntary groan would escape Bill. "Oh, how long how much longer must we wait and try to have hope?" and Sadie's heart would almost burst with its pain.

And nearly everyday the neighbors with their sly, sometimes sarcastic questions, "Heard from John P. yet?" always pronouncing the initial with a sort of contempt, as if to say, they knew that for all of John, Bill could stay right here in Sumperville and starve.

One day Sadie's Irish got the better of her. She was mad, clean, fighting mad all the way through, and when she was like that, she knew she should never attempt to do anything. She was likely to say things she shouldn't, or get things confused. Better to wait until she felt calmer.

But she couldn't. She was too keyed-up. She wrote John a letter that almost scorched the paper it was written on.

There were some letters on the desk Bill had written to various firms in and around the state, hoping to find a position. Sadie picked them up and hurried with her letter to the postoffice.

A few days later they received a letter from John. He wrote that he had a place for John in his own organization, but had been having trouble finding an apartment for them in the city. He'd managed to find a nice one at last and they were to come on as soon as they could get ready. He'd meet them at the train.

Sadie knew she would always remember Bill's eyes as he turned to her, shining with such faith and relief. "See, honey, John didn't forget. I knew he wouldn't."

"Yes . . . dear, I see." Sadie couldn't say any more because tears were stinging the back of her eyes. Bill's belief in John had always been heart-breaking. He must never, never know the truth.

The next day the postman handed Sadie a letter that had not been delivered at point of addressee's. Sadie stared at it. It was the one she'd written John. In her haste and anger, she'd confused the street numbers and the letter had come back unclaimed. So John hadn't even received it.

She tore the letter into tiny bits and sat down with a little plop. One thing certain: she'd learn a lesson from this—how to control her hasty temper, how to have more faith in her fellowmen. And always as long as she lived, she'd be glad she'd made a mistake and her angry letter had come back to her.

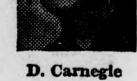

Dale Carnegie

Author of "HOW TO WIN FRIENDS and INFLUENCE PEOPLE"

DON'T GET BORED

DID you know that one of the surest ways of getting "worn to a frazzle" is by allowing yourself to become bored? Boredom is far, far more tiring than work, or, I might say, more tiring than work you are interested in, for if you are not interested in your work that work is going to bore you.

Not long ago I read a book entitled "Archives of Psychology" in which the author, Dr. Joseph E. Barmack, told of experiences that proved the truth of boredom producing fatigue. He put a group of students through a series of tests in which he knew they had little or no interest. He says that pretty soon those students were tired, sleepy, even complained of eye strain and headache. Some of them were irritable, some even nauseated.

D. Carnegie

To make sure that they were not imagining their ills, he had metabolism tests made on them, and these tests showed that the blood pressure of the body, and the consumption of oxygen actually decreased when they were bored, and that the whole metabolism picked up immediately when their interest was aroused in something.

Last summer I took a vacation in the Canadian Rockies, up around Lake Louise. I spent several days trout fishing, fighting my way through brush higher than my head, stumbling over logs, fallen timber, yet after eight hours I was not exhausted. Why? Because I was excited, exhilarated. I had a sense of high achievement; a creelful of cut throat trout. But suppose fishing bored me? I would have been worn out by such strenuous work at an altitude of seven thousand feet.

Mr. S. H. Kingman, president of the Farmers' and Mechanics Savings Bank of Minneapolis, Minn., says that during the war, the Canadian Government asked the Canadian Alpine Club to furnish guides to train the members of the Prince of Wales Rangers in mountain climbing. He was one of the guides chosen, all men ranging from 42 to 59 years of age. They took these young men across glaciers and snow fields, up forty foot cliffs, where they climbed with ropes and tiny footholds. After fifteen hours the young "Rangers" were utterly exhausted, some of them fell asleep without eating. And they had been hardened by commando training! The guides, much older men, stayed up for hours, not exhausted because they were interested. The young men, you see, were not.

If your work is boring, find some element in it that interests you, or you'll grow old before your time.

More About Supervisors Deny

was elected that June, mainly because there was no one to split the vote. In that time I campaigned for Ryder while all the other undertakers ran for cover. As a result of that, when Kilmartin was elected, he held that grudge against me.

WHIPPING BOY

"His aim is to use me as a whipping boy, as an object lesson to the other undertakers as to what will happen to them if they fail to support him for re-election."

"As it is, what I have been trying to do is get an ordinance drafted by the supervisors absolutely prohibiting the coroner, whoever he is, from using political discrimination in assignment of deputyships. That is, if he appoints one undertaker as deputy then all the rest must be appointed deputy coroners likewise, one from each firm. Most of the undertakers would like to get rid of the present system because they do so much work for nothing. They work on a case, then lose it. However, they are afraid to stick their necks out because Kilmartin will penalize them and deprive them of their deputyship and leave them at the mercy of the others.

"No one undertaker wants to stick his neck out. Either all should be deputies or none. If we get this ordinance through, then we could feel safe, even if Kilmartin is in, that if the coroner is going to operate on deputyships, he will have to appoint all of them. It is true. I am the only non-deputy.

"Kilmartin operates on the deputy system. It would cost him two salaries for two deputies because he only gets fees from estates and from the county treasurer on a basis of the number of coroner cases he handles, so it is more to his advantage to save a salary and have all the undertakers working for nothing. It would be absolutely no expense to Kilmartin if he appointed me a deputy. I would work for nothing the same as everybody else."

Asked about the letters to McKinnon, Rutherford said, "I only wrote him one letter and that was more complimentary than insulting. This was on a zoning matter and I complimented him on taking a stand in the right direction in overruling a decision of the planning commission. However, I branched out in a zoning matter on my own place which forbids me from remodeling my own mortuary. When I first operated my mortuary at this location there was no zoning. Now it is residential. If I was insulting because I called his attention to that joker in the ordinance, then, in his opinion, a difference of opinion is a crime. If calling attention to irregularities can be brushed off as insulting, then our government differs from Russia's only in degree."

DEADLY DRIVING

An inattentive driver traveling at excessive speed makes a deadly combination on the highway. Keep alert, urges the California State Automobile Association, and remember that excessive speed is any speed too fast for prevailing conditions.

Manuel J. Sepeda, Father of Campbell Resident, Dies

Manuel Joseph Sepeda, 64, father of Mrs. Hazel Hollingshead of Campbell, died unexpectedly on Christmas Day in San Jose. A native of San Jose, he was a member of San Jose Lodge 401, Loyal Order of Moose. He was an employee of Pacific Manufacturing Company, where he worked as millman. EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS —

THE CONCEPT OF PRIVATE ENTERPRISE STEMS FROM THE EARLY DAYS OF OUR COUNTRY, WHEN BUSINESSES WERE LARGELY LOCAL TO THE COMMUNITY, OWNED BY THE MEN WHO RAN THEM AND SERVING PEOPLE WHO LIVED AS NEIGHBORS. THEN, A MAN'S BUSINESS WAS "HIS OWN BUSINESS."

AS BUSINESSES HAVE GROWN BEYOND THE COMMUNITY AND OWNERSHIP HAS PASSED FROM INDIVIDUALS TO GROUPS OF OWNERS — THE CONCEPT OF PRIVATE ENTERPRISE HAS BROADENED TO RECOGNIZE A PUBLIC INTEREST IN ITS OPERATIONS, POLICIES AND AIMS. IN LINE WITH THIS BROAD CONCEPT, THE AFFAIRS OF THE LIFE INSURANCE BUSINESS TODAY, UNDER STATE SUPERVISION, ARE AN OPEN BOOK.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LESSON-SERMON
"Who is so great a God as our God?" This verse from the Seventy-seventh Psalm will be the Golden Text for the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon on Sunday, January 1, on the subject "God."

This sermon will be comprised of other verses from the Bible and correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy including the following:

The Bible: "I create the fruit of the lips; Peace, peace to him that is far-off, and to him that is near, saith the Lord; and I will heal him" (Isaiah 57:19).

Science and Health: "To ignore God as of little use in sickness is a mistake. Instead of thrusting Him aside in times of bodily trouble, and waiting for the hour of strength in which to acknowledge Him, we should learn that He can do all things for us in sickness as in health." (p. 166).

THE FARMER'S CORNER

By RALPH H. TAYLOR
(Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California)

While most eyes are trained on the year of promise which stretches ahead, as with every year it is interesting to look back on 1949. In California, it was a year of progress on most fronts.

Viewing the whole picture of industry, business, and agriculture, the research department of the California State Chamber of Commerce has compiled a significant review of economic conditions as they existed at the end of the year.

In the field of real estate, it is reported that the market remained strong throughout the year, although there was a slight slump during the first half of the year. "California's 1949 new construction volume is preliminarily estimated at over $2,300,000,000; or about six per cent under the record year of 1948," the Chamber survey shows.

Chamber comments in regard to agriculture indicate that the farmer, in relation to other sections of the economy, generally put in a less profitable year.

"California farm cash income during this year's (1949) first nine months—$1,357,800,000—was 8.2 per cent under the same 1948 period," the figures show. "Net income of California farmers is unusually variable," the report continues, "depending upon specific crops and market conditions at harvest time. This year's large cotton crop will bolster farm income and give growers favorable returns. Many fruit and vegetable growers suffered from low prices and weak markets."

On the other side of the fence, the Chamber reported that "citrus marketings have been heavier this fall, at higher prices. The navel orange crop is larger than anticipated and is of exceptional size and quality. A large rice crop is showing price improvement. Except for tomatoes, celery and cauliflower, fall truck crops generally brought prices equalling or bettering last autumn."

"Egg and poultry production has been high, with fair prices," according to the Chamber roundup. "Milk production equalled last year's yield. Heavy marketings of meat animals this fall brought lower prices than in 1948. Wine prices have risen recently. The outlook is for stability in this industry."

On the factory, manufacturing, and labor employment front, conditions were good, though influenced by seasonal curtailment, it is reported. Near the year's end, the Chamber placed total employment at 4,082,000.

Quoting further: "Recent Census Bureau estimates list California civilian population as 10,531,000 on July, 1949—a 314,000 gain since July, 1948. About 171,000 of this gain was due to net in-migration. Most of these newcomers are in the younger working age group. Their constant addition to our labor force is the primary cause of comparatively high ratios of unemployment to labor force, which have prevailed for four years."

Department store volume of business, the Chamber revealed, held just slightly under 1948.

Summarizing the Chamber findings, 1949 was a good year—better than generally predicted—particularly in the latter six months.

What of 1950? Most observers predict things will taper off still more, although not drastically. The experts, however, mostly confine their prognostications to the first six months. Beyond that, economic conditions may vary.

Still, one thing is certain. California has enjoyed a comparatively higher degree of prosperity than the Nation as a whole and should maintain that favorable position. As the Chamber of Commerce pointed out, the State's working force is younger, on an average, than that for the rest of the Nation—and that factor is contributing in no small way to its economic well-being. Then, too, the state is emerging, rapidly, as a serious challenger for industrial as well as agricultural honors.

All in all, most Californians are content to look back on 1949 with an appreciative eye—but the look ahead, toward 1950, is anticipatory.

TB Association Urges Payment Of Seal Funds

Christmas Day may be over, but the Christmas Spirit still prevails at the Santa Clara County Tuberculosis Association, 211 Balbach, Insurance Center Building, San Jose, according to the association's president, Dr. Anita D. Laton, who reports that Seal Sale returns continue to come in the mails.

"With a quota of $60,000 for the 1949 Christmas Seal Sale in Santa Clara County, however," Dr. Laton pointed out, "we are still $17,000 short of our goal. So we urge everyone who did not do so to get in his returns as soon as possible."

Several county residents explained in letters with their delayed returns that the rush of the Christmas preparations has prevented them from acknowledging their Seals sooner, and some revealed that they had been out of town, Dr. Laton added. A few returned their seals with the explanations that they were unable to purchase them at this time, but requested that they be kept on the mailing list in hopes that financial conditions would improve during the coming year.

"We want to remind everyone that the work of the Santa Clara County Tuberculosis Association, which is financed through the sale of Christmas Seals, goes on for 365 days of the year," Dr. Laton continued. "Christmas Seal dollars will be invested during 1950 in such tuberculosis prevention and control projects as: mass free chest x-raying, health education, and medical research."

Since the war, Pacific Telephone gained as many telephones in the West as in the previous 19 years.

West's four-millionth telephone goes to work

1. Takes a lot of equipment to serve 4,000,000 telephones making 22,000,000 calls a day. And in just the few high-speed years since the war, we've almost doubled our facilities as measured in dollars. And those dollars have produced results. It took 45 years to install our first million telephones, 17 years to install the second million, 6 years for the third... and only 3½ years for the fourth.

3. Your own telephone today is more valuable as a result of the many we've added. You can call more of the people you want to call—more can call you. And your telephone does its work, big jobs and small, for only a few pennies a call. It's one of the best buys you can make with your dollars today.

2. Service keeps on improving as we add this new equipment. Today you can get the dial tone or the operator quickly in almost every exchange. Long Distance calls, nine out of ten of them, go through while you stay on the line... often in half a minute if you know the number. It's a good record. But we won't be satisfied until everyone who wants service has it... the best service ever.

Your telephone is one of today's best bargains

Griddle Cake Breakfast

Start cool days with a platter of tempting hot cakes enhanced by broiled pineapple and peach slices.

The brisker the morning, the heartier the appetite. That's why griddle cakes are top favorites for fall and winter breakfasts. Give hot cakes extra glamor for a special affair by serving them with broiled pineapple, apricots, or peaches. Such flavorful meats as sausage, bacon, ham, or lamb kidneys are generally preferred to round out a griddle cake meal.

Besides pleasing the family, griddle cakes can be relied on for much good food value. Enriched flour is a good source of essential B-vitamins and iron, plus protein and food energy to keep morale high. This recipe makes medium-thick griddle cakes. Folks who like the "thin ones" may add more liquid to the batter. In any case, the rule for light tender pancakes is the same as for other quickbreads—stirring batter only until ingredients are thoroughly mixed.

GRIDDLE CAKES

2 cups sifted enriched flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 egg
2 1/2 cups milk
1/4 cup melted shortening

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Beat egg slightly and add milk. Add to flour mixture, stirring until flour is moistened. Add shortening. Bake on ungreased, hot griddle. Makes about 30 four-inch cakes.

New Cresta Powerhouse now in service...

Sixth major plant added to the
P-G-E system in 18 months

Up on the Feather River, 30 miles east of Oroville, the massive new Cresta Powerhouse has been a construction attraction for sightseers for many months, is now on the job pouring out electricity. Its completion set a record in power plant construction... it is the sixth new P. G. and E. power plant put into service during the last eighteen months. With the addition of Cresta's 101,000 horsepower—a total of 694,000 horsepower of new generating capacity has come on the line since V-J Day. Work is being rushed on additional plants which will add another 1,107,000 horsepower by mid-1951. The total horsepower from all of these new power plants will be 1,801,000. This is about 6 per cent of the total of new electric power facilities being built by all electric companies in the United States in the postwar period.

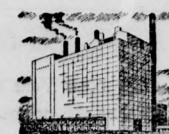

Kern Steam Plant, near Bakersfield, began turning out 101,000 horsepower for California in May, 1948.

Elverta Powerhouse, on the Mokelumne River, produces 135,000 horsepower. It came on the line in July, 1948.

West Point Powerhouse, on the Mokelumne River, added another 21,000 horsepower in November, 1948.

Station "P", the steam plant, added a big 298,000 new horsepower in February, 1949.

Colgate Powerhouse, on the Yuba River, started pouring out 40,200 horsepower for California in June, 1949.

Work never stops on our power-building program
